

Women in Science — Satellite Meeting

December 2, 2020 — 10:00 -14:00

Rudolf-Bultmann-Straße 8, Konferenzraum, 35039 Marburg

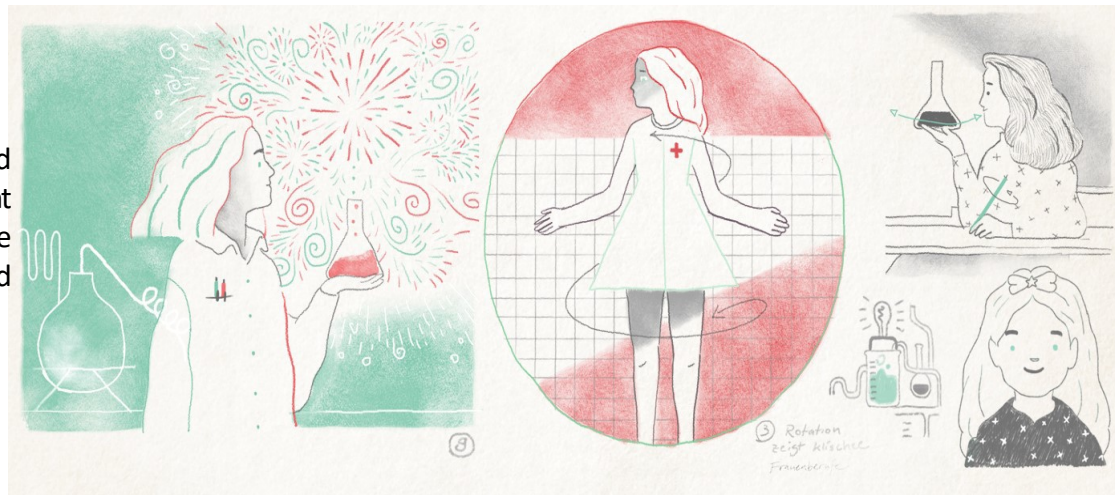

This one-day symposium is to be held the first day of the International Conference of the DFG Research Unit 2107 “Neurobiology of the Major Psychoses: A Translational Perspective on Gene-Environment Interactions in Depression, Bipolar Disorder and Schizophrenia” meeting.

This satellite meeting provides a unique opportunity for young female attendees to hear from successful women currently in the STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) fields who are active in the areas of research, academia, medicine, science communication or combinations therein. The meeting will provide not only extra resources but also a large support network of other women in various stages of their careers.

Registration:

To reserve your place please send an email with your name, current position, and one brief sentence about your expectations or desired topics to be discussed at the meeting!

for2107.WIS@gmail.com

There is no registration fee, but space is limited so please make sure to register soon!

Registration

Deadline:

November 15, 2020

Organizers

Dr. Theresa Kisko

Behavioral Neuroscience, Experimental and Physiological Psychology, Philipps-Universität Marburg

Dr. Özge Sungur

Behavioral Neuroscience, Experimental and Physiological Psychology, Philipps-Universität Marburg

Confirmed Speakers

Prof. Dr. Sabine Pankuweit: “How to support women in science”

Vice-president for Gender Equality and Young Academics, Philipps-Universität Marburg, Marburg.

Prof. Dr. Marcella Rietschel: “What is a successful career?”

Director of the Department of Genetic Epidemiology in Psychiatry, Central Institute of Mental Health, Faculty of Medicine Mannheim, University of Heidelberg, Mannheim.